

Middletown Disburses $422,500 in COVID-19 Relief Grants to 29 Small Businesses and Non-Profits

Mayor Tony Perry, Deputy Mayor Rick Hibell and Committeewoman Pat Snell presented No Limits Cafe Founder Stephanie Cartier and her wonderful staff members with a ceremonial check for $15K at the restaurant on Tuesday, February 9. "We are very grateful to Middletown for supporting No Limits Cafe," said Cartier. "We opened 2.5 weeks prior to the pandemic so we were hit hard. This $15,000 will allow us to continue giving our employees with intellectual disabilities meaningful employment. We love our Middletown Community!"

The Middletown Township Committee ceremoniously presented 8 small businesses with a check for $15,000 on Tuesday, February 9th through the Middletown Economic Relief Program (MERP): All Natural Dry Cleaners, Code Ninjas, Greens & Grains, Middletown Pancake House, Monmouth Museum, No Limits Cafe, Rock'n Music Academy, and Zeek's Tees.

MERP funding was officially approved at the Tuesday, February 16th Township Committee meeting where it was announced that 29 small businesses and non-profit organizations across town will be awarded $422,500 through this initiative. Of the 29 small businesses that applied, 26 were awarded $15,000, and the other three were awarded $10,000, $10,500, and $12,500 since that is the amount the business owner requested. The relief program was launched in October 2020 to help provide financial assistance to eligible small businesses and non-profit organizations in the municipality that have been affected by the 2020 coronavirus pandemic.

“During this challenging environment, we are very excited to be able to provide some financial assistance to our dedicated and hard-working small business owners who continue to serve our community as well as employ locally,” said Mayor Tony Perry who also serves on the board of the Eastern Monmouth Area Chamber of Commerce. “Business owners will have this money in their hands before the end of the month and we hope that it will not only enable them to stay afloat, but also thrive as COVID restrictions ease up.”

Deputy Mayor Rick Hibell is a business owner and understands first-hand the financial burden this pandemic has had on community. “This is one way we are able to give back to our small business owners who have been putting their heart and soul into trying to adapt to the continuous blows COVID has dealt.”
